This Photoshop tutorial will help you learn how to use Adobe Photoshop's basic tools and learn to work with layers, images, color, and filters to create a basic photo that will take you from the beginner level to the intermediate level. Learn Photoshop to create your own images, edit and manipulate images, and add text. It's common for beginners to not be able to reach the level of an expert—learn to edit and manipulate images in a simple way until you're comfortable. The following Photoshop photo tutorial will guide you through how to take a photo of a lock, add a border, edit the colors, change the background and resize the image. This project will take you through the key points. You will learn about layers, how to draw a design, how to change colors, how to use filters and overlays, and how to resize images. To learn more about the basics of Photoshop, please refer to Photoshop User Guide. What You'll Need Project Name How To Photoshop Download Files Step 1 - Open Photoshop Before you begin, open up a new document at the size you want for your photo. The default size is set at 300×300px (pixels), which is a standard size for web. It's a good size if you want to make a picture that is usually seen on web. Import a photo that you wish to manipulate. It can be any photo that you already have on a photo editing software. It also can be a photo that you will do an image retouching for something similar to the one you are doing. Step 2 - Open Layers Go to Layers Palette on the main menu bar. Select Edit>Layers to open up the Layers palette. Step 3 - Make It Selection Select the image on the Layers palette and click on Layer>>Lock Selected Layer. This will lock it so you won't be able to edit the pixels of this layer until you unlock it. Step 4 - Select Layer and Add a New Layer Select the layer and click on the New Layer icon on the top right corner of the Layers palette. This opens up the layers window where you can add a new layer. It will be added as the top layer. You can also create a new layer by selecting the Layers palette and pressing the "+" sign at the bottom right corner of the palette.

Parasites de Ratonos y Motobos, Osófago Faríngeo, Roya, Portugal. The larva and tapeworm of the Pseudomethocauris likopuloae n. sp. from Rattus francoisiana L. (Carnivora, Muridae), an intermediate host in a flea-transmitted biological cycle of pseudoparasites of Rattus rattus L. (Rodentia, Muridae). The genus Pseudomethocauris Lühe, 1915 (Trematoda, Cystidicolidae) has been revised recently and a new species of this genus was described from Rattus rattus L. in Portugal. This parasite was named Pseudomethocauris likopuloae n. sp. from the tapeworms parasitizing R. francoisiana L. (Carnivora, Muridae), an intermediate host in a flea-transmitted biological cycle of two pseudoparasites of R. rattus. Comparison of the sequences of a fragment of the 18S rDNA with those of another Rattus methocae Lühe, 1915 and R. rattus (GenBank/EMBL/DDBJ accession numbers AJ636998, AJ636991, AJ636992) and a phylogenetic analysis shows that P. likopuloae n. sp. from R. francoisiana shares a very high homology with the species Methocauris likopuloae from R. rattus L. (Saskatchewan, Canada). This is the first record of a parasite (P. likopuloae) parasitizing R. francoisiana. Furthermore, it is the first record of two pseudoparasites in the same intermediate host, but in different biological cycles. Thus, the case of P. likopuloae should be considered a rare example of polyparasitism within the same intermediate host. Synthetic peptides that mimic a segment of a bacterial adhesion protein bind to and inhibit the adherence of several periodontal pathogens. A 43 amino acid segment of the bacterial adhesion protein P1 was chemically synthesized and investigated for activity toward inhibition of bacterial adherence to human gingival fibroblasts. Stump Education Forum Stump Education Forum will be the first-ever Stump Education Forum, scheduled to take place March 11-13, 2018 at the New Haven Marriott. Sponsored by the Education Foundation of New Haven County, the Stump Education Forum will bring together New Haven County's 24 nonprofit charities that provide direct financial support and critical services to individuals and families in need of support. "We're pleased to be able to partner with the Education Foundation of New Haven County to create a platform for our community's education-related nonprofits to gather and share information, establish new collaborations, and showcase the great work they do," said Steve Lipson, President and CEO of the Education Foundation. "We look forward to a wide array of speakers, workshops, roundtables and sessions, and to having a great community of attendees." The Stump Education Forum is an invaluable opportunity for nonprofit organizations to learn more about new funding opportunities, navigate the shifting educational landscape, build stronger partnerships and strengthen their community impact. Stump Education Forum attendees are invited to listen to, engage and learn from some of the leading nonprofit management and organization development experts in the country. Attendees are also invited to participate in a series of interactive workshops and discussion panel that will focus on topics such as: building better foundations, strategies for sustaining organizational success, and effective financial management. The Stump Education Forum will feature a series of event sponsors and exhibitors such as: • The Education Foundation, which is proud to be New Haven County's only statewide education foundation. The Education Foundation supports local nonprofits that provide direct financial support and critical services to individuals and families in need of support. • JP Morgan Chase & Co., which is a 100-year-old business with over 100,000 employees serving more than 75 million customers in the United States. JP Morgan Chase & Co. sponsors the Stump Education Forum to showcase its support for nonprofit organizations providing education solutions to New Haven County's families. • American Express, which is a global financial services company serving millions of cardmembers and businesses with financial products and services. American Express is proud to be Stump Education Forum's first-ever corporate sponsor. American Express serves as the title sponsor of the 2018 Stump Education Forum. • KIPP Foundation, a national nonprofit network of innovative urban public charter schools that makes great opportunities happen for children.
