There are a number of other visual effects in FIFA 22 that have been enhanced or added for the first time. “FIFA vision lab” is a new innovation from PES that helps players to better identify the direction of a shot or pass; “smoke” – a feature which was originally introduced in FIFA 11 – has been further improved for FIFA 22; and players can now throw, shoot, pass and head the ball more realistic. With the introduction of new attributes for both players and the artificial intelligence of the game’s artificial intelligence, the EA SPORTS FIFA 22 game will feature more realistic and authentic gameplay. Further, to help the player to control the ball more naturally, the new attributes for players will also result in a smooth and balanced player movement when dribbling, passing and shooting. There is also an overhaul of the way the game’s AI plays with more intelligent, varied actions. “Post-match tactics,” which lets the players transfer tactics and squad tweaks from the post-match menus to their real-life team, have also been added to FIFA 22.
