the details are as follows: the songkey mk4 features a unique concept of representing the chords. with the help of the songkey mk4, you can now use the chord detection and the songkey mk4 to find out the key of a song and detect the chord progression in the song. the songkey mk4 also includes a midi-channel feature to assign different midi devices to different midi channels. in this version we have added the option to use the chord recognition as a key detection. this means that when you use the chord recognition engine for chord recognition, you are also obtaining the chord recognition of the song. this is a great advantage, because you do not have to open your daw and use the rest of the plugin for key detection, you just have to use the chord recognition engine and songkey mk3 will automatically detect the chord recognition and determine the key of the song. we have added an option to midi input, so that you can use the plugin to send a midi note-on to the song to know which chords are being played, it also has a midi output to record the chords that you have detected. we have also added a new option, which allows you to detect the tempo of the song using a statistical model that detects the statistical properties of the chord progression of a song. the tempo of the song is then displayed in the gui. we have also improved the automation of the plugin to minimize the need to use buttons, thanks to the automation system that allows you to automate songkey mk3 for any operation that you want. this means that you can automate songkey mk3 to perform specific actions based on a midi note-on, in the same way as you do with almost any midi effect plugin. in addition, you can now record all the chord recognitions that you detect, and even midi notes that are not the notes you are using to trigger the plugin. 5ec8ef588b
