Ethiopian Calendar

Ethiopian Calendar - is software utility that allows you to keep in touch with your roots no matter where you might be in this world. The interface of the program is easy to use and it looks like as if it was made in the late 1980's. The program enables you to keep in touch with your roots, no matter where you might be in this world. It offers a multitude of information on the Ethiopian calendar, as well as for the Gregorian calendar, a yearly summary of the most important holidays of each month.

Furthermore, it allows you to set your “home-country” as Ethiopia or America, so you can use the program in the English or German version. The program automatically detects the country in which you are based and takes the current time of day from that particular region. This makes the program more or less accurate, as time zones differ all over the world. The program displays the hours, minutes and seconds with a resolution of two decimals. The program can be used to enter and update the birthdate of your family members and friends. As the Ethiopian system has a different interpretation of the date of the annunciation of Jesus, this may cause some differences between the Ethiopian and the Gregorian calendar. The program is well prepared to take these differences into account, so no effort is lost during conversion of the Ethiopian calendar to the Gregorian one. You can export the Ethiopian system to an HTML file. It can be uploaded to Google Calendar and the Widget, so you can view the information in the calendar. Furthermore, the data can be saved to a PDF file, so you can easily share the information with the rest of your family. You can set up a period of 6, 12 or 24 months ahead and save the Ethiopian calendar to a HTML file for each of them. When the program is installed, the “Ethiopian Calendar” tab of the Start menu appears under Accessories, allowing you to start the program as soon as you are logged in to your account. A small flag in the Start menu informs you of the date format in the current region. You can add holidays to the Ethiopian calendar and you can also change the language of the program to English or German. Also known as the Ge'ez calendar, the Ethiopian system is based on the Alexandrian one, only it adds a leap day every four years without exception. The year starts on the 29th or 30th of August, in the Gregorian calendar. Furthermore

Ethiopian Calendar is, as the name clearly states, a software tool in the form of an Ethiopian calendar. This enables you to keep in touch with your roots, no matter where you might be in this world. The interface of the program is easy to use and a bit outdated. On the main screen the entire current month is displayed, next to a clock that shows the exact time in Ethiopia. In addition to that, a small button that enables you to toggle between the Gregorian and Ethiopian calendar is available. Also known as the Ge'ez calendar, the Ethiopian system is based on the Alexandrian one, only it adds a leap day every four years without exception. The year starts on the 29th or 30th of August, in the Gregorian calendar. Furthermore, there is a gap of seven to eight years between the two systems, as each culture calculates the date of the annunciation of Jesus differently. As installation is not required, you can drop this file to any folder on your computer or even to portable storage units, such as USB flash drives. This means that you can run the Ethiopian Calendar on any computer that you have access to. Moreover, the Windows registry does not get updated with new keys, and the tool does not add new entries to the Start menu. The program can provide you with a list of the most important holidays marked in the Ethiopian calendar. You can export the system for one, two or six months in advance to an HTML file.
